Be the change that you want to see in your world

Connected Conversations Series

For middle school and high school

$149 per registration

Dates: week of July 26th and week of August 2nd

Length: one week (Mon-Fri), 1.5 hours per day

Limit of 15 participants per workshop series

(for group registration, please reach out to the number below)

For more info, text or call 619-916-6672
Dhalia Balmir, https://www.balmirinclusive.com/

Why this program?

- Learn how to become thought leaders and change agents. Become part of the change that you want to see in your school, in your neighborhood, and in your home
- Engage in experiential learning and problem solving
- Understand the history of racism and key concepts
- Begin the journey to becoming an ally and accomplice for justice
- Engage in knowledge exchange and learn from each others stories

This social justice camp is an opportunity for youth to engage in social justice topics and knowledge exchange. This camp provides youth a safe and brave space for experiential learning through dialogue, critical thinking, techniques in conflict resolution, and storytelling.

For middle schoolers, scholars who complete this course develop leadership skills to take back to their schools.
For high schoolers, scholars who complete this course may be eligible to participate in a paid internship.

Workshops: Middle school & High school

Day 1

Self & Identity

- Living outside our bubbles
- How we see each other
- Understanding beyond what we know

Day 2

Microaggressions

- Defining microaggressions
- Recognizing the "micros" in everyday life
- Intent vs Impact
- Disrupting microaggressions

Day 3

Race & Racism

- Racism in the past and in the present
- Profiling of BIPOC
- School to prison pipeline
- Cultural awareness

Day 4

Anti-Racism Toolkit

- Thought Leadership
- Allyship/Co-conspiratorship
- Centering the harm
- Conflict Resolution

Day 5

Connected Conversations

- Open dialogue, testimonials, and Q&A
- Opportunities for action